U.S. Offers Bombing Halt For Freeze On Hanoi Force In South

SAIGON (AP) — The United States has offered in the Paris peace talks to halt all bombing and other attacks against North Vietnam in return for a freeze on Communist force levels in the South, Foreign Minister Tran Van Do said today.

Do said in an interview that South Vietnam has reluctantly agreed to go along with this offer. There has been no indication thus far that Hanoi would be willing to accept such a proposal.

The 64-year-old foreign minister has been kept closely informed of developments in the Paris talks by the U.S. Embassy here and by the South Vietnamese observer delegation in Paris.

He said the freeze of Communist forces would be obtained by a formal North Vietnamese agreement to re-establish the demilitarized zone along the 17th parallel and to reaffirm the neutrality of Cambodia and Laos.

This would in effect establish a buffer zone along the full length of South Vietnam's land frontiers where—at least in theory—Communist infiltration could be stopped.

The formula would bypass one of the main stumbling blocks in the Paris talks: Hanoi's refusal to acknowledge that there are any North Vietnamese troops in South Vietnam at all.

Do said the American offer does not include a halt of reconnaissance flights over North Vietnam.

"How else could we be sure that the conditions are being observed?"

North Vietnam has declared repeatedly it will not discuss any other matter at the Paris talks until bombing and all other acts of war against it—including reconnaissance flights—have been halted unconditionally.

Do said the proposed buffer-zone freeze would leave 300,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops in South Vietnam. They face 700,000 South Vietnamese forces, 526,000 Americans, and 63,000 other allied troops. A halt to Communist infiltration would be only a first step in long and difficult peace negotiations, Do said, and would not end the fighting in South Vietnam.

The buffer zone idea was the substance of three of the four proposals put to the North Vietnamese by Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, Do said. The fourth point was a demand for a halt of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese attacks against civilians in South Vietnam.

Do said Hanoi undoubtedly will reject this demand because it claims to have no control over Communist operations in South Vietnam.

He indicated that in the long and difficult bargaining still ahead in Paris, both sides might make concessions leading to a complete halt to the bombing of North Vietnam.

"We have told the United States that the bombing is aimed at impeding the inflow of troops from the North and easing the Communist pressure in the South which is a result of this infiltration," Do said. "But we insisted that there must be no interruption of reconnaissance flights over the North until a full and effective international control system has been established."

Do said South Vietnam remains opposed to the admission of the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front to the Paris talks with full delegation status.

But, he added, Saigon would not object to having the Viet Cong seated as an ally of North Vietnam.

Viet Premier, Cabinet Resign, Tangling Talks

PARIS, (AP) — A government crisis in South Vietnam introduced a new element into the peace talks between the U.S. and North Vietnam today, threatening to weaken the American position.

U.S. officials declined comment on the resignation in Saigon of Premier Nguyen Van Loc and his Cabinet. Privately diplomats were inclined to seek the immediate causes in South Vietnamese politics rather than in the diplomatic situation.

North Vietnam was expected to use the newly demonstrated instability of the political leadership in Saigon to its own advantage. Indications were that the United States would have to proceed with extraordinary care in the conference to minimize the danger of inflaming suspicions and enlarging the political crisis in South Vietnam.

Talks Today

Ambassadors W. Averell Harriman and Xuan Thuy held their third session of the Paris talks shortly after news of the Saigon shakeup reached here. Neither offered any comment on it or its implications for the conference.

They had the opportunity to speak first today, under the rotation system which has developed here, and was expected to strike out again at continued U. S. bombing of the southern panhandle of North Vietnam. He is pressing for total cessation of all U.S. attacks on the North.

A spokesman for Thuy said Friday there could be "no compromise" on this North Vietnamese demand. Harriman has been urging the North Vietnamese to take steps to de-escalate the war in order to justify an end to U.S. attacks on the North.

Center On Bombing

He called for lowering infiltration from the north and re-establishing a buffer zone between North and South.

The entire complex of issues centering around the bombing appeared to be wholly deadlocked until one side or the other was ready to make a major breakthrough move. Without such a move the talks could founder. For the moment both sides seemed to be fighting a battle for public opinion.

Against this background news came from Saigon of Loc's resignation and reports spoke of this development as reflecting differences between President Nguyen Van Thieu and Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, including their disagreement over peace negotiations.

Harriman told newsmen as he went into the conference that he had no information, evidently meaning official information, on the Saigon development.

The American position here and in any future peace negotiations is based on building and preserving maximum political strength, stability and independence in South Vietnam. Adverse trends damage this position.

Portland Apathy Greeted Kennedy

By The Associated Press

Oregon and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy have definitely not hit it off well on their first encounter.

The city of Portland all but yawned in his face Friday as the New York senator launched his campaign for the state's May 28 Democratic presidential primary.

The Kennedy charm that knocked 'em dead in dozens of cities in recent weeks just didn't come through this time because no one turned out to be charmed. When he rode for a dozen blocks through downtown Portland the sidewalks were empty. No one tried to rip off his cufflinks, shoes or tie.

He was received politely but coolly in two appearances before factory workers and at the Portland Economic Club.

Indications were some of the senator's top campaign people working in other states will be yanked into Oregon to start making some changes.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, who lost to Kennedy in the Indiana and Nebraska primaries, predicted during the Nebraska campaign that Kennedy might find their positions reversed in Oregon.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, third contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, caused a flurry Friday at the University of Maine when he said the United States and North Vietnam have agreed that in the Paris talks the North Vietnamese can have "whomever they want on their side and we will have whomever we want on our side."

Big labor came out for Humphrey Friday with the announcement of the formation of the National Labor Committee for Humphrey.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who is dueling former Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the Republican presidential nomination, will head south in search of support.

The Nixon campaign took on added punch Friday with the help of Joe Louis. The former heavyweight boxing champion, a Nixon supporter, made his first campaign appearance at the opening of headquarters for United Citizens for Nixon, a new booster group.

Racists Pose Threat To Security: Hoover

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says revolutionary stands taken by groups and students of the new left pose a threat to the nation's security.

He told Congress the black nationalist groups he had in mind were the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, the Black Muslims and the Revolutionary Action Movement. They are, he said, "a distinct threat to the internal security of the nation."

The FBI chief said the new left, typified by the Students for a Democratic Society active in campus disturbances, is "a new type of subversive, and their danger is great."

Arms Stockpiled

Hoover appeared before a House Appropriations subcommittee Feb. 23 and his testimony was released today. He seeks approval of a $207.5 million budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

He expressed concern over reports that black nationalist groups are stockpiling weapons "for use against the white man."

He said these reports could well be true because guns are easily obtained and "in light of the inflammatory urgency of such agitators as Stokely Carmichael, H. Rap Brown and

Delta County Convention Is Long On Hubert

Delta County Democrats in county convention at the Delta County Building Friday night turned out the largest number of party members — about 70 — in many years as the party girded for the presidential campaign.

The convention did not vote on preferences for presidential nomination but party leaders estimated that a poll would have shown about this strength: U.S. Senator Eugene McCarthy, 10 votes.

U.S. Senator Robert Kennedy, 25 votes.

Vice President Hubert Humphrey, 35 votes.

The convention was opened by George St. Louis as interim chairman, chose Mrs. Nicholas P. Chapekis as convention secretary and County Treasurer, Mrs. E. C. Villeneuve as chairman.

Delegates Chosen

It elected as delegates to the state convention in Detroit June 1-2: Adam Sinclair, Frank Stupak, Mrs. Maurice E. Anderson, Mrs. Nino Green, Mrs. Harold E. Anderson and Michael Lalich, all of Gladstone; and Prosecutor Nicholas Chapekis, former Rep. Einar Erlandsen; County Clerk William Butler; County Democratic Chairman George St. Louis; County Treasurer Mrs. E. C. Villeneuve, E. C. Villeneuve, Mrs. Nicholas Chapekis, Mrs. Glen Matheson, Mrs. Einar Erlandsen, Sheriff Harold Finman; and Claude J. Tobin, all of Escanaba.

Unit Vote

Alternates are: Minnie Berquist, Blanche Papineau, Jane Anderson, Leo DeRoek, James Doran, William Girard, Norbert Murphy, Robert Ferguson, Elnora S. Vader, Neil Kositzky and Jack Hemes.

Resolutions adopted committee.

48 Marines Die In 2-Day Fight

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. troops reported today killing 107 enemy troops in continued sharp fighting in South Vietnam's northern sector as the allies braced for expected widespread enemy attacks on Ho Chi Minh's birthday Sunday.

The fighting in the north Friday, near Khe Sanh and south of Da Nang, left 28 Americans dead and 135 wounded, U.S. communiques said today.

Fragmentary reports said 22 U.S. Marines were killed and 81 wounded in a fierce assault on an enemy bunker complex 18 miles south of Da Nang, part of Operation Allen Brook, a drive aimed at routing out enemy troops menacing the city.

The number of enemy dead earlier had been estimated at more than 100, but Leathernecks sweeping the battlefield have found only 28 enemy bodies from Friday's clash.

Military spokesmen said 159 North Vietnamese and 48 U.S. Marines have been killed in the last 48 hours of fighting in the area. Another 118 Marines were wounded.

Nearby, 15 miles west of Tam K6, a company of the U.S. Americal Division's 11th Light Infantry Brigade reported killing 28 North Vietnamese. No American casualties were reported.

Hoholik Heads Nixon Campaign

LANSING (AP) — Frank Hoholik, Manistique industrialist, has been named chairman of the Nixon-for-President Campaign in the 11th Congressional District, State Chairman Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, announced. Hoholik is president and general manager of the Manistique Pulp & Paper Co. and president of the Upper Great Lakes Timber Co.

Mental Health, Civil Rights Bills Carry In Senate

LANSING (AP) — The State Civil Rights Commission and the Department of Mental Health won money battles Friday as budget bills totaling $467.7 million took another step in the legislative process.

The Senate, before passing the $45.5 million general government appropriation, defeated an attempt by Sen. James Fleming, R-Jackson, to pare $300,000 from the Civil Rights Commission's budget.

In the House, meanwhile, members overrode the recommendation of their Appropriations Committee and tacked another $2 million onto the committee's $150.7 million mental health bill.

The Senate also voted approval of a $19.4 million bill for the departments of Commerce, Labor and Licensing and Regulation, while the House concurred in a $252.1 million appropriation for the state's public colleges and universities.

The big higher education bill is $4.8 million higher than the Senate's version.

The House now has passed, often with major amendments, all six of the executive budget bills sent to it by the Senate. The Senate has two House-passed bills remaining on its calendar.

Fleming said the commission—which got $1.39 million in the current fiscal year and for which Gov. George Romney recommended $2.776 million in the coming period—should not receive an increase proportionately higher than many other state agencies.

His amendment to cut the commission's budget lost on a show-of-hands vote.

McCarthy And Kennedy Men Team In Places

By The Associated Press

Public commitment was anathema at Democratic party county and district conventions across Michigan Friday night, but the private indications were that Humphrey and Kennedy forces scored nearly evenly in the bid for dominance of the state convention.

Reports from a number of conventions were lacking, however, with some of the meetings carrying over into today.

The widespread, nearly universal adherence to the call of party leaders for an open convention with uncommitted delegates made it difficult to assess the developments.

But the indications that did come forth generally favored Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, with Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York close behind, and Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota third.

Forces Team

In some cases, Kennedy and McCarthy forces were working in coalition against Humphrey backers—a development some observers predicted would be even more obvious at the state convention in Detroit June 1-2.

In Wayne County, district conventions designated their favorites for delegates to the national convention in Chicago Aug. 26. The counties will designate their national convention delegates in caucuses at the state convention.

McCarthy forces suffered some setbacks, though, and a Michigan aide to the Minnesota senator's campaign said federal court action was a possibility in an effort to overturn what he called "high-handed railroad tactics that violated the rules."

102 Delegate Votes

He cited the 1st District in Wayne County and the 12th District, which is Macomb County, as cases where legal action might be pursued.

Such a case might be based on a Missouri ruling by a U. S. District Court judge in connection with the convention in Missouri's Jackson County—Kansas City. The judge ordered the convention to be held a second time after irregularities were alleged to have occurred in the first convention, and McCarthy backers gained some ground in the rerun.

Michigan's 102 national convention delegates, who will share 96 votes, likely will be as

Boatmen Ready Craft For Busy '68 Season

Local boatmen, whose ranks are increasing each year, are looking forward to a season of additional Escanaba Yacht Club sponsored activities — and a summer of pleasure boating that starts with readying the craft for the water.

The yacht basin area is a busy scene right now, with boats receiving fresh paint and varnish, power craft engines getting a tune-up, and a number of boats already launched and at moorings.

The City of Escanaba, noting the growth of the local pleasure fleet, put in five additional boat canaba fleet, including a 32-foot 10 inch Pearson built Vanguard fiberglass sloop purchased by John Anthony, who sailed it to Escanaba from Detroit.

Anthony and his crew—Skip Zimmerman and Dave Lark—sailed the sloop (as yet unnamed) the 500 miles up the lakes to Escanaba in five days.

Power craft new to the local fleet this spring is Bill Stenbol's "Gypsy," a 25-foot Owens cruiser which he bought in Wisconsin; Fred Costell's 28-foot Chris Craft twin-engine 185-hp; and Harold (Pat) Gasman's 27-foot Chris Craft. Costell and Gasman have yet to name their boats.

Paul Vezina is bringing his 28-footer from Manistique to the Escanaba harbor for the season; Don Brandt has purchased the Steve Maki seagull, and Harold Cloutier has purchased the seagull previously owned by Bill Stenbol.

Kingston Mine Hit By Strike

CALUMET (AP)—Officials of Calumet & Hecla Corp. today sent out four-page letters asking 290 miners to end a wildcat strike and return to work at the firm's Kingston mine near Calumet.

The mine produces more than half the ore of the Calumet Division of the firm. Almost 400 other workers have been put on a three-day work week, the company said, because of a shortage of ore.

The miners halted work May 10, protesting a change ordered by the firm on a system of communication between miners below ground and an above-ground hoist operator.

The dispute centered on a company order prohibiting the men from using an emergency bell system for purposes other than an emergency. The miners were asked to use a regular signaling system.

City's Club 314 Ends 36 Years Of Youth Service

Escanaba's Club 314, which has served the city for 36 years as a youth and community center, closed its doors to the community's young people for the last time Friday.

The City Recreation Dept. expects that the new Catherine Bonifas Civic Center which is under construction at the water-tower site will be completed for the start of next fall's program.

The Senior Citizens and Golden Age Clubs will continue to use Club 314 during the summer months, however, providing their own supervision and leadership.

Club 314 opened last September and provided recreation for young people of the area as well as a meeting place for adult groups. Next fall, these activities will be moved into the new facility. The recreation dept. is hopeful for a formal dedication of the new civic center next September.

General activities at Club 314 the past year were conducted under the supervision of Francis Lueneburg, veteran member of the recreation dept. staff. Leadership in the dance room was provided by Irene Piriot, who also was in charge of the skate and ski boot market in winter months.

Erwood Slade and Earl Dumais shared duties in the game room. Maurice Flynn and Darrel Bengry handled volleyball and basketball supervision in the upstairs gymnasium.

Activities at Club 314 included table tennis, pocket billiards, volleyball, basketball, weight lifting, television viewing, dancing and general socializing. Elderly residents used the building for social activities on Wednesdays and Sundays. The Red Buck Archery Club used the gymnasium for meetings and target shooting on Wednesday and Sunday nights. The center also was used by other organizations for meetings and classes.

Govt. Forests Escape This Fate

Tax Robs Forest Of Chance To Improve

By JEAN WORTH MARQUETTE — Dr. Gene Hesterberg says that forest management should be like any other business management; it should aim to earn a return on invested capital.

If it doesn't do that the deficiency should be corrected or the activity should be abandoned for another one.

If all the persons who own Upper Peninsula timberland and don't make any money on it were to abandon it there would be a change of ownership resembling an Oklahoma land rush.

Forum On Resources of Upper Michigan examined this situation in its review of government landholding at Northern Michigan University, Marquette recently and Dr. Hesterberg, head of the Forestry Department at Michigan Technological University, Houghton, spoke on private forest ownership in the U.P.

Wears Many Hats
What he said wasn't new to professional foresters, but it must have been a shocker to persons not familiar with Upper Peninsula forest economics. Dr. Hesterberg speaks with the authority not only of a professional forester and forestry educator, but he is also an owner of timberland, a sawmill owner and the chairman of a board of education.

"Several decades of experience have shown," he told the FORUM conference "that the average hardwood forests have one inch of diameter growth every five years after they reach tiecut size. In the South, in the Cascades and some other favored places the timber growth is double or triple this rate for the Upper Peninsula.

"But here in the north we have a Boreal (low temperature) situation and third rate soil. We can earn $5 to $6 an acre on our very best forest lands (in growth yearly), but most of our lands are burned over and regenerating and growing a second class crop at best. They earn about 50 cents an acre a year in forest growth.

Taxes Take All
"In Baraga County on good soil aspen and other young second growth in 40 years of care on 80 acres produced $1,600, or $40 a year. At present the taxes on those 80 acres are $46.26 a year. It won't be in business long with those figures if we consider this an investment business.

"Fairchild in his 'Forest Taxation in the U.S.' says that the problem is not merely of taxes on the forest, but extends to the method of taxation, which has the power to affect the business of forest growth in a particularly peculiar and unfavorable manner.

"Reforestation always runs into the problem of taxation. It both forces too early cutting of timber and cuts off the financing of forest growing.

"The problem in the U.P. is the growing cost of ad valorem taxes. It is accentuated in the Michigan township with heavy federal ownership, which contributes to serious tax inequities.

U.S. Forests
"The national forests in the Upper Peninsula are averaging 9 cents an acre return to local counties from the 25 per cent fund. (U.S. forests return 25 per cent of their income, after some deductions, to the areas in which they are located.) In 1930 Congress passed the Knutson-Vandenberg Act which permits subtraction of sums for good forestry practices before the 25 per cent formula is applied.

"Access roads are advantageous to the wise management of federal forests, but the cost of cutting access roads is not included in income to which the 25 per cent fund is applied."

School Costs
Dr. Hesterberg cited case histories of U.P. forest taxation on private lands, including a 160-acre tract in Bohemia Township in which there are 22,000 acres of federal ownership and about 6,000 acres of state ownership. The private parcel is paying taxes of $1.12 a year per acre, with the average earning capacity of the land in timber production only 50 cents an acre.

"I am Chairman of the Hubbard School Board," said Dr. Hesterberg "and the cost of operating schools in the U.P. goes up every year because of professional negotiations between teachers and boards of education on pay. The minimum salary has been $5,000 a year for neophyte teachers and this year it is $6,000 and the teachers are asking $8,000.

"We are interested in the professional teachers. I'm one of them. Schools are a very important and vital part of taxation, but the federal program (of payments in lieu of taxes) doesn't permit any slack to be taken up.

No Improvement
"We should look on the forest as a business enterprise and not any business in the world can pay $46.26 in taxes and harvest $40 for it and claim that it is still in business. You wouldn't want to fly in a jet run on any basis like that we're running U.P. forestry on.

"The national forests pay their professionals well and improve their lands, but if we're thinking about growing trees and having federal forests return 9 cents an acre in lieu of taxes for local community services in the same area where Connor Forest Industries must pay $1 an acre for the same kind of land, there is nothing left for the improvement of the private lands."

Harnischfeger And Union Meet

Bargaining teams of Harnischfeger Corp. and of Local 632, United Auto Workers, met Friday at the Pioneer Motor Inn for the first time since the union struck the Escanaba plants of Harnischfeger on Saturday, April 20, after failure of negotiations to reach an agreement. The old three-year agreement expired on April 15.

The bargaining teams headed by Robert Teece, Milwaukee, executive vice-president of Harnischfeger, and Ivan Brown, Iron Mountain, representative of the UAW International, were brought together by Michael Noonan, federal mediator, and Carl York, state mediator, who were active in the earlier effort to reach an agreement and to avert the strike which is now one month old.

Neither side reported on the results of Friday's meeting, but it was announced that the bargaining teams would meet again

Creation Of Pride

The creation of pride in a people is a subtle process and an important one. Many persons believe that it is not created by a grand design but that it happens or it doesn't happen, naturally, out of events and atmosphere.

Americans have been a people with great pride. We may not think so, here at home, but foreigners say that at least some of our nationals traveling abroad are proud beyond tolerance and think that everything America is the biggest and bestest.

The Athenians of Greece should have been proud of their culture, which so enriched our own and all others, but this was the product of a small leisure class in a slave society. Rome's greatness was similarly tainted democratically. The great Elizabethan Age of England is a better example of a great time of a great people.

Is this Michigan's great period? Michigan Week, which the state begins to observe today with Community Pride Day, inevitably asks this question. The annual week of internal examination of our state and identification of the elements in which we can take pride, reveals things of which we can all be proud, as well as things which should cause some shame.

Ideally, Michigan Week should be a turning inward of its people, an examination of civic conscience. This would show us a state which has not been just another state of the Union, but a special state, a great water-land state — girt by the Great Lakes in the heartland of America — which has been the chief exemplar of the industrial revolution that is changing the world so drastically.

There was industry before Michigan applied mass production techniques to the making of automobiles, of course, but it was never the same after Henry Ford, Ransom E. Olds, William Crapo Durant, and other giants of the early auto industry put all America on wheels.

The French had been making automobiles in the last century but the huge impact of the automobile came not when it was discovered that man could make a self-propelling wagon, but when it was discovered that it could be made by mass production methods so cheaply that every man could own one.

This discovery and its exemplification in Michigan changed the whole life of the state and, really, of the world. We continue a state in which agriculture is important and in which drug making, mining, varied manufacture and other industrial endeavors are important, but the auto industry is a colossus which overshadows all other endeavors.

It brought us new dimensions in labor union organization, industry-wide bargaining on wages and working conditions, new concepts of what employers' responsibilities to employees are; provisions for care of the accidentally injured, and of retirees. These have changed our whole social fabric and affected all life in Michigan and in America.

We have been a melting pot, as Gov. George Romney has often said, which has changed America. America has too often looked to Michigan as a labor-ruled, or welfare state because of the great social experiment underway here, without realizing that they are watching a new industrial society being born. Observers have focused on the childbirth pains and social trauma and not on the implications for the nation of what is going on here.

This revolution, of course, has created great problems; change is usually troublesome. It created problems not only for the automobile industry — which is much better equipped to bear them than many other industries — but especially for other industries with less income and less "fat."

Michigan Week reminds us of all this and more. Sunday will be Spiritual Foundations Day and it recalls that the Midwest was opened by the Black Robes — the Jesuit missionaries — as well as by the voyageurs, and that religious faith has been a strong influence in the state since then.

Michigan is a great state, the more for its adventuring in service to humans than for its mechanically born riches. Its greatest achievements can be in the realm of the human spirit.

Parkinson's Law

One of the economic "laws" discovered by British historian C. Northcote Parkinson holds to the effect that the size of a bureaucratic agency grows in opposite relation to the amount of work it has to do.

His prime example was the fact that "as Britain's navy reduced the number of ships and as Britain's colonial empire shrank, the number of employees of the Admiralty and the Colonial Office increased in direct proportion."

The truth of the law is demonstrated anew by some statistics cited by the Council of State Chambers of Commerce.

Since 1954, says the council, employment in the U. S. Department of Agriculture has risen 62 per cent while the number of farms has declined 36 per cent and farm population has declined more than 42 per cent.

To put it another way, in 1954 there was one Agriculture Department employee for every 284 members of the farm population, or one for every 72 farms. The ratio is now one federal employee for every 105 of the farm population, or one for every 28 farms.

It collects from its citizens.

Here, unfortunately, they come into conflict with another of Parkinson's laws, which states that government spending always rises to meet or exceed the taxes

Aid For Elms

The Dutch elm disease that has been ravaging America's elms for nearly 40 years was immigrant from Europe. Now another organism from across the Atlantic is being encouraged to take up residence in this country in hopes of saving the remaining trees from almost certain extinction.

Tiny European wasps, credited with checking the disease in Europe, are being bred by the millions in American laboratories, reports Organic Gardening magazine. The wasps lay eggs next to the larvae of the elm-bark beetle, which is responsible for spreading the fungus blight. Upon hatching, the wasp larvae feed on the beetle larvae and destroy them.

The wasps will be a welcome ally, not only to tree-owning individuals and communities who have been spending many thousands of dollars a year for the removal of infected elms and the chemical spraying of healthy ones, but to those who fear that the wide-spread use of pesticides may have consequences much more undesirable in the long run than the loss of the elms.

Honorable Defeat!

By RAY CROMLEY

HONG KONG (NEA) — As we go into talks with Ho Chi Minh there are a number of things we should remember about Communist negotiations.

An interview this reporter had years ago with one of the world's top Communist theorists will illustrate quite clearly what Communist objectives are in coming to the negotiating table.

Nozaka Sanzo, also known as Okano Susumu, when he was head of the Japanese Communist party, told this reporter, "You westerners think of war and peace as two separate things. To Communists, peace and war are the same."

"We Communists," said Nozaka, "use the same tactics in peace and in war. Negotiations — in fact all talks and all relations between Communists and non-Communists — are merely another form of war."

Nozaka went on to explain. Sometimes, he said objectives can be attained more quickly by fighting. On other occasions, when the time is right, those objectives can be reached more readily, or more easily, by talking. It's all part of the same strategy.

Westerners believe it is legitimate to lie, use trickery and subterfuge in war, Nozaka continued. Communists believe it is right to use these same techniques—lying, treachery, subterfuge and deceit in negotiations, in agreements—in war and in peace "because we believe peace and war are the same."

How Ho expects to apply these techniques to the Paris negotiations is made clear in captured Communist documents.

"(Since) we are not strong enough... to deal them a lethal blow, a coalition government opens the way to attaining our revolutionary goals." "The strategy of peace and coalition will pave the way for complete victory. We will take over the reins of the government in the countryside, then start surrounding the urban centers."

"The coalition government may include a nonrevolutionary element as president. But he must follow the essential line of action as stipulated by the (Communist) front."

"What is important is that we must have tight control over the government, the laborers and land workers. It does not matter if there are a few notables at the top."

"To all appearances it (will be) a coalition government, but its real powers (will) lie in our hands."

"In regard to the coalition government, our party will exercise over-all control over it, and if our agents are firmly established and if they properly carry out the principal lines of action of the front, (the party) will lead the revolution to the final objective."

In summary, one document says, the peace conference will be conducted in the line of "creating an honorable defeat" for the United States.

Negro Gets New MSU Position

EAST LANSING (AP) — The Michigan State University Board of Trustees has appointed a Negro to the newly created post of assistant to the president for equal opportunity.

Dr. George Johnson, professor of administration and higher education at MSU, will assist Dr. John Hannah, MSU president and chairman of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission.

The MSU trustees pledged an all-out effort to increase the enrollment of Negro students at the university, to add more Negroes to the faculty and to place more Negroes in higher administrative posts.

Establishment of a center for race and urban affairs also was recommended.

Collect Litter

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Northwestern Michigan College students staged their third annual litter — in Wednesday and broke what they claim is a world's record for collected road-side litter.

Teams of students picked up 20,298 bottles and cans discarded along 50 miles of roads and highways around Traverse City.

If you want to use the Jacoby transfer, we have a few special words of advice. First, make sure that you and your partner are in complete agreement about it. Next, use it in response to no — trump opening bids only. The third bit is that you do not use it if second hand has acted over your partner's no-trump.

North's two heart bid showed at least five spades and South dutifully bid two spades in reply to the transfer.

North's second round jump to three no-trump, "Partner, I have already shown you that I hold five spades. Now I want you to know that my hand is suitable for play at no-trump game as well as in spades."

South's decision to place the contract in spades was a good one. He only held two spades but they were very good cards and South had opened one no-trump without a stopper in diamonds.

Playing at four spades, South won the diamond opening and went right after trumps. He had to lose the ace of spades and two diamonds but the rest of the tricks were his. Three no — trump would have gone down because West would cash four diamond tricks.

It is interesting to note that without a diamond opening the North — South cards would have produced 11 tricks at either no-trump or spades and if diamonds had broken 4-3, no lead would have beaten three no-trump.

This takes nothing from South's fine decision. Bitter experience has taught us that if there is one opening lead to beat one of our unsound contracts, our opponents have a mean habit of making it.

Ann Landers

Math Is Necessary To Get That R. N.

Dear Ann Landers: Is there any place in this world for a dumb nurse? I am a sophomore at Crescenta Valley High School in California and I've had terrible trouble with math ever since I was in the ninth grade.

Is it absolutely necessary for future nurses to take algebra, geometry and chemistry? If so, why?

I have wanted to be a nurse ever since I was five years old. It will break my heart if I don't make it. Please tell me what to do about this horrible problem with math. I will bless you till the end of my days if you come up with a solution. Thank you. — DEDICATED GIRL WHO WANTS TO SERVE

Dear Girl: You don't say how dumb you are in math, but I hope you are not flunking. You need a high school diploma if you plan to be an R. N.

Every nurse must have some knowledge of math because math is the basis for all chemistry. Nurses must administer medicine and it is vital that they be able to calculate doses accurately.

If you have a mental block on math, you cannot be an R. N. but you can be a licensed practical nurse. This is extremely rewarding work and I highly recommend it.

Dear Ann Landers: Our son passed away five years ago. His lovely wife remarried a fine man several months ago. We still think of her as our daughter-in-law although she is no longer related to us. How do we introduce her to our friends now? — NEED AN ANSWER

Dear Need: Although the woman is no longer your daughter-in-law she is related to you if she has children. She is the mother of your grandchildren. Introduce her as — "Mary, who was married to our son who passed away — she is now married to Jack Jones." It would be inappropriate to introduce her as if she were just a friend, and I'm sure she would feel hurt, as you would feel hurt, if she introduced you with no mention of the family ties.

Dear Ann Landers: Is there a rule that says a single daughter owes her mother more than a married daughter? I have been stuck with my mother and I use the word "stuck" because I can't think of a word that fits the situation better.

My mother is 40 years older than I am and we argue all the time. Everything I say and do irritates her and the feeling is mutual. We live in a tiny apartment and fall all over each other. I hate to come home from work.

I have two sisters who are married and live in another state. They send (jointly) a plant at Easter, a gift at Christmas and a box of candy on Mother's Day. They come to visit once a year, for five days, and stay in a hotel. They have never invited Mother to visit them and once when she suggested it they told her they didn't think she could stand the trip.

What to you think of this set — up? — NO SIGNATURE PLEASE

Dear No: I think it is shameful. Your sisters should contribute every month toward your mother's living expenses. Moreover, they should relieve you twice a year by insisting that your mother visit them — or they should stay with your mother a week or two while you take a vacation.

Someone, perhaps a clergyman, should help you get some justice. Get going.

Do you feel ill at ease... out of it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key to Popularity," enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Attend the Church of Your Choice

Butterflies aren't Human

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Our 9A biology trip was a huge success. After we saw the museum's collection of rare lepidoptera, we went outside to collect specimens. Then we ate lunch, and took pictures. Here's one with me, on the left, laughing at Eddie. We were in a big discussion about whether or not butterflies can feel.

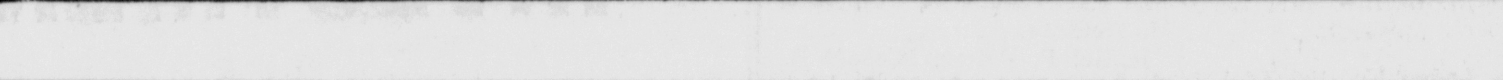

While our teacher exchanged notes with the curator, we sat around and talked. After butterflies, we started on missiles and rockets, and whether or not there's life on the stars. Somehow, don't ask me how, we got on the subject of God.

You know, I didn't realize how ignorant some kids are about Him! All of a sudden, I found out how good it is to have some ideas about where, what, and why, I am. A few of those kids were really way out in left field.

Now it's up to me to show them what they have been missing. I think I've talked them all into going to church with me Sunday.

Resolutions passed concerned highway safety and stabilization of auto insurance and paid tribute to County Treasurer Mrs. E. C. Villeneuve "for her long and distinguished service to the Democratic Party." A moment of prayer was observed for Mrs. William Niles, who died recently.

A previously drafted campaign platform was approved after sometimes spirited discussion of some of the planks, notably those on civil rights and school financing.

It "hailed with deep satisfaction" the candidacies of Hubert Humphrey, Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy, and supported:

Civil Rights
Agriculture: Legislation, to improve Delta's agricultural economy by raising prices for locally produced agricultural commodities, such as livestock, milk, potatoes and mink to compensate for higher costs of farm operations and to raise farm profits.

Civil Rights: That all rights and equality of opportunity vested in the citizenry by the U.S. Constitution must be extended to all American citizens, within the established framework of law and order and we encourage legislation to this end.

Crime: We urge enactment of legislation to raise salaries and improve working conditions of law enforcement officers.

Fair Share
Labor: We believe labor has every moral, legal and economic right to its fair share of the nation's prosperity, and, that full collective bargaining rights should be extended without further delay to county and municipal employees, as guaranteed by federal and state statutes.

Schools: We believe there is need for more adequate school financing to provide equal educational opportunities for all children and urge the Legislature to properly use present sources of revenue, as promised, to obtain these ends.

Draft: We endorse Senator Hart's bill to remove inequities in the draft by limiting draft-eligibility to one year and by giving selectees a voice in designating that year.

Security: We favor immediately increased payments to allow retired citizens to live with dignity and comfort, with special reference to the 5,000 people in Delta County who now receive as little as $50 per month in social security payments.

Teachers: We believe that the best qualified teachers will be attracted and retained by salaries paid in other professions.

Veterans: We believe the Veterans Homestead Act is unfair and should be changed to provide the same equity in tax exemption now established for senior citizens and that all authorized benefits should be extended to veterans of the Vietnamese war.

Youth: We support the proposition that those old enough to serve in the armed forces are old enough to vote.

Measuring Stations Ready For Debut Of 'Anglethon'

Twenty-five measuring stations in Delta County for the Bays de Noc Resources Council "Anglethon" were announced today.

The "Anglethon" which will award prizes to fishermen registering "milepost" fish gets underway Tuesday.

Purpose of the program is to encourage "development of new fisheries and fishing facilities" and to "awaken local interest and enthusiasm and provide a vehicle for spreading that interest and enthusiasm to the 50 million or more people residing within a day's drive of the Bays de Noc country."

This will continue throughout the season with cumulative records kept and additional awards will be provided for the 200 yard, 300 yard, one quarter mile and other "milestones."

Walleyes, northern pike, black bass, salmon, steelheads and trout caught on hook and line in the Bays de Noc or adjacent waters are eligible for entry.

This advice is still valid in 1968.

Mrs. Johnson On 'Discover America' Tour

TARRYTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, wearing a borrowed cape to ward off the evening chill, watched a sound and light program at the Boscobel restoration to wind up the first day of her "Discover America" trip in the Hudson River valley.

The First Lady, who began her two-day tour Friday morning by dedicating the American Museum of Immigration at the Statue of Liberty, planned stops today at Sunnyside, the home of author Washington Irving, and then Cortlandt Manor, a late 18th century building.

Sunnyside and Cortlandt Manor along the Philipsburg Manor in North Tarrytown, compose the Sleepy Hollow restoration made possible by the late John D. Rockefeller Jr.

Mrs. Johnson climaxed her Friday schedule with the visit to Boscobel, an 18th century mansion which appeared doomed for destruction in 1955 when it was sold to a house wrecker for $35.

Thanks to the intervention of a group of citizens, the mansion was saved, dismantled, and moved to a new site in Garrison, 15 miles north of its original location.

As the guest of Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Wallace, prime movers in the Boscobel restoration, she toured the mansion grounds overlooking the Hudson, then, after a candlelight dinner, watched the restoration's sound and light program.

The program combined voices, music and sound effects in an outdoor dramatization of the story of the Hudson valley. It had no live actors, but depicted action by colored lights flashing on the grounds and within the mansion.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Fifty girls at Jesse H. Jones High School have been suspended because the school said their skirts were too short.

"Actually, no girl was suspended unless the skirt was four inches above the bend of the knee," he added. "That's mighty high."

Legislature May Extend Deadline For Supervisors

LANSING (AP) — Concerned about the possible impact of recent court decisions extending the one-man, one-vote principle to Michigan's counties, the House has voted to open the door for possible legislative action in the area.

Approved and sent to the Senate was a resolution which would authorize lawmakers to introduce and pass legislation extending the June 18 deadline for filing as a candidate for county supervisor.

The resolution is needed to skirt already - past legislative deadlines for introducing bills and passing them in the house of origin.

The Michigan Supreme Court, following the lead of an earlier federal ruling, held recently that counties must reapportion themselves into equal-population districts from which to elect supervisors.

State Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley has said the redistricting should be accomplished in time for this year's elections.

Jerome At Hope

HOLLAND (AP)—Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, scheduled to be in Holland Monday for Mayor Exchange Day, is to discuss "The Urban Crisis" in relation to Detroit and Michigan at a public address in the afternoon at Hope College.

there are displays of objects that are significant in understanding the life and work of the county's pioneers.

All of the materials were received as gifts from interested persons, including a special outdoor display — logging sleighs that were contributed by Vernon Wick of Cornell. A special marker explaining the use of the sleighs in early-day logging was erected this spring.

Last year more than 4,500 persons registered at the Museum, which is open on weekends, for the first few weeks and then daily from 1 to 9 p.m. throughout the summer.

John Nystrom will return to the Museum as director on weekends, and Norbert Murphy, history teacher at Escanaba Junior High School, will be at the Museum on weekdays this season.

A team of Girl Scouts are receiving training in Museum operations in a program sponsored by the Society and conducted by the Museum committee. The girls will serve as aides in work at the Museum this summer.

Another project of the Historical Society is the erection of historical markers in Delta County. Floyd Roberts is chairman of the markers committee and the current project is the erection of a marker on U.S. 2 east of Rapid River at the Whitefish River hill.

The marker will identify the old Indian and pioneer trail between Little Bay de Noc and the trading post at Grand Island in Munising Bay, which the U.S. Forest Service is now reopening as a recreation trail. Other markers are at Ludington Park and Pioneer Trail Park. All are approved and registered by the Michigan Historical Commission.

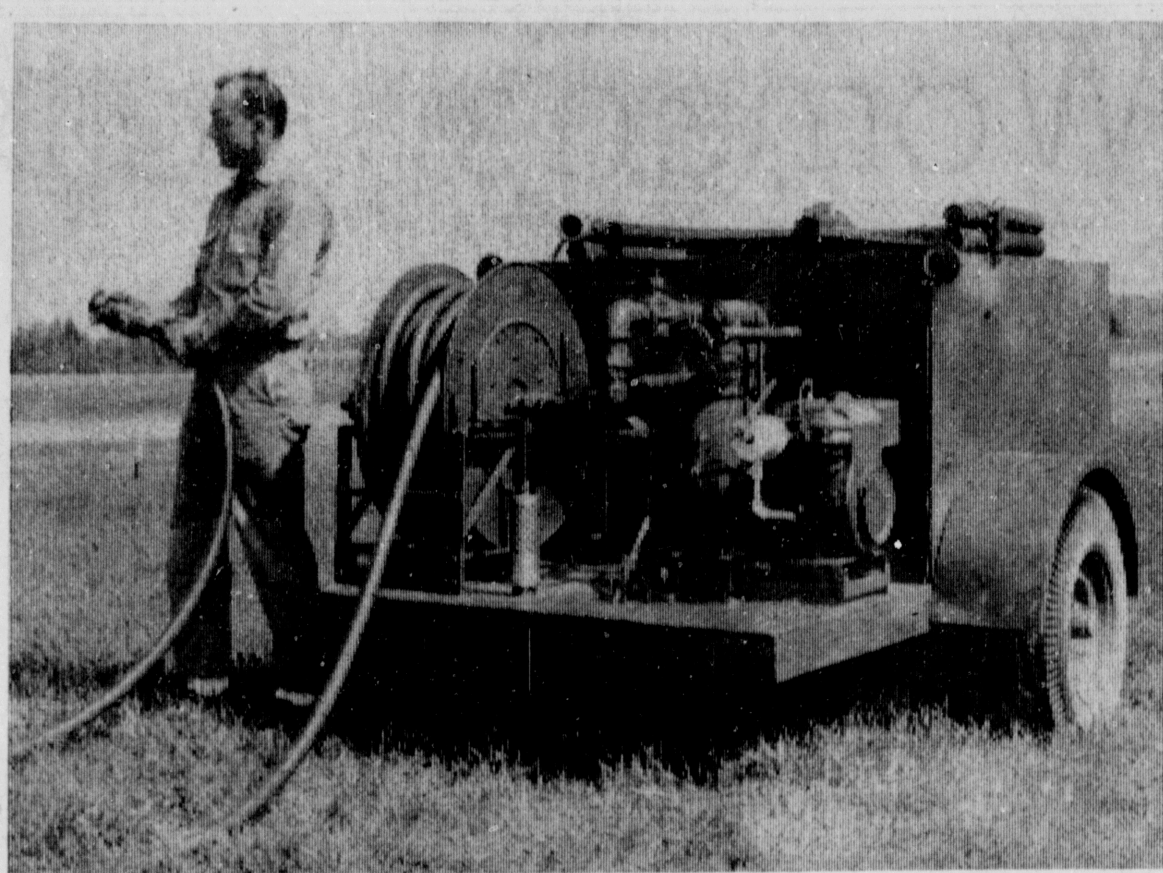

The State Highway Department has approved locating the Whitefish Hill marker at the exact site of the old trail along U.S. 2.

A NEW FIRE FIGHTING TRAILER developed by Brothers, Inc., is demonstrated by Ed Plunger, an employee of the firm. # Fire Trailer Developed, May Help Small Towns

By DAVE ANDREWS

HERMANVILLE — A new fire fighting trailer developed by Brothers, Inc., of Hermansville is being looked on by company officials as a solution to the emergency fire protection problems of small communities, villages and industries.

The compact, two-wheel trailer is equipped with a 400-gallon water tank, a gasoline motor pump and hose and can be quickly moved from station to station by a pickup truck or other vehicle.

The biggest advantage, however, will be its cost.

Reuben J. Marcoe, secretary-treasurer of the firm, said that although it's difficult to put a price on a prototype unit, Brothers, Inc., would expect to be able to manufacture the trailers for somewhat less than $2,000.

Compared with the $35,000 cost of regular fully-equipped pumper trucks, the fire trailer could provide economical fire protection for the smaller communities which cannot afford a bumper truck.

Hold Under Control

"The idea of this unit is to hold a fire under control until a regular unit can arrive," said Marcoe.

"The main thing is to get the water to the fire," he continued. "That's what puts it out, not the axes, ladders, gas masks, etc., that you find on fire equipment."

Marcoe said that the unit is simple — water and hose on a mobile trailer — because to load it down with other equipment would require subsequent reductions in water capacity of the tank, reducing the unit's effectiveness.

Besides the 400-gallon tank on the trailer, Marcoe pointed out that other water tanks could be mounted on pickup trucks, etc., improving the capacity which could be taken to a fire quickly.

Rapid Fill

Ed Plunger, a Brothers, Inc., truck driver who has tested the model unit, said the gasoline pump can fill the 400-gallon water tank from a stream, lake or other water supply in less than three minutes.

Marcoe said the company feels the unit has "very good potential" for sales throughout the country.

He pointed out, for example, that many small villages now depend entirely on area-wide volunteer departments or on city fire fighters. The "Fire Fiter" trailer would improve fire protection in those communities.

Marcoe also said that smaller industries, particularly sawmills and small manufacturing plants, have expressed interest in the unit for added fire protection to reduce fire insurance costs.

Two Years Of Work

"If Robinson's Furniture over at Jam Dam had had one of these, maybe their fire would have been so bad," he said.

The fire trailer unit was Marcoe's idea and it has been in the development stage for about two years at Hermansville. Marcoe said he got the idea from a similar unit which was specially built for another firm he was employed with before he joined Brothers, Inc.

Richard Lungerhausen, president, and his brother, John, vice president, and members of the Brothers, Inc., shop crews all have worked on the design and production of the prototype.

Brothers, Inc., was organized in Feb., 1957, and is engaged principally in the fabrication and production of metal tanks of all sizes, liquid handling installations and miscellaneous structural fabrications.

Northrup's Grand Slammer Caps Rally, Saves Sparma

DETROIT (AP)—Joe Sparma doesn't want anything more to do with no-hitters or Frank Howard, but Jim Northrup can stick around.

Sparma fired a three-hitter, evening his record at 3-3, thanks to Jim Northrup's ninth-inning grand slam home run, which beat Washington 7-3 Friday night.

The winning blow came after the Tigers had fallen behind 3-2 in the top of the inning on a record homer by the giant Sen-

Orioles Spoil Shutout String

By The Associated Press

Luis Tiant blew his date with the record book and Frank Howard had his record-breaker spoiled, but if it's aggravation you're after how about what Tom McCraw did to Jim Nash?

Tiant's string of four consecutive shutouts and 41 scoreless innings was shattered by Boog Powell's three-run homer in the sixth inning Friday night and Baltimore beat Cleveland 6-2.

Howard set a major league record with his eighth homer in the last five games and 15th of the season giving Washington a one-run lead in the ninth inning. But Detroit beat the Senators 7-3 when Jim Northrup cracked a grand slam home run in the bottom half of the inning.

Nash pitched hitless ball for 6-2-3 innings before McCraw tripled, ending the no-hit bid. Then McCraw tripled again opening the Chicago 10th and Duane Josephson's two-out pinch single brought him home with the only run of the game as the White Sox nipped Oakland 1-0.

In other American League games, Boston rallied for the fourth straight game and topped New York 6-4 and California's game at Minnesota was postponed by rain after 3½ innings of hitless pitching by the Twins' Jim Perry and the Angels' Rick-ey Clark.

Tiant was gunning for the major league record of five straight shutouts set in 1904 by Doc White of the White Sox. And it seemed he might bet it when he pitched his way out of a bases-loaded, one-out jam in the fifth inning, protecting a 1-0 lead.

After he struck out Dave Johnson opening the sixth, Curt Blefary walked. Frank Robinson grounded to Larry Brown, but Chico Salmon dropped Brown's throw at second and both runners were safe. A wild pitch advanced them to second and third and then Powell connected.

Curt Motton's pinch three-run homer wrapped it up for the Orioles in the eighth. It was the second straight pinch three-run homer for the rookie outfielder.

Nash was brilliant, striking out 11 batters and allowing only McCraw's seventh-inning triple until the 10th. After McCraw tripled again, the Athletics' right-hander struck out Russ Snyder, loaded the bases with intentional walks to Sandy Alomar and Wayne Causey and fanned Tommy Davis for his 13th strikeout.

But Josephson, batting for winning pitcher Joe Horlen, singled McCraw home with the winner. Horlen pitched a four-hitter for his third straight victory.

The Red Sox won their sixth straight game—the fourth with a comeback rally—and dropped the Yankees into the American League cellar.

DETROIT (AP)—Three famous Michigan sports figures will be inducted into the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame Tuesday at Cobo Hall. # Gophers Retain Baseball Lead

CHICAGO (AP)—Minnesota's Gophers stayed ahead of the pack in the Big Ten baseball race Friday with a 9-6 victory over Iowa while Michigan State and Michigan closed in with double victories.

Michigan State pulled within one-half game of the lead by drubbing Illinois 9-0 and 3-2 and Michigan nailed Purdue with a double shutout, 1-0 and 4-0.

Ohio State took a pair from Northwestern, 6-3 and 2-1, while the Wisconsin at Indiana twin bill was rained out.

Minnesota meets Iowa again today in a single game but the Gophers could find themselves dropping into a first place tie even with a victory should Michigan State capture a pair from winless Purdue.

ator first baseman following a single by Del Unser.

"I don't want any part of those no-hitters," said Sparma, who pitched six and one-third innings of hitless baseball before Ken McMullen belted his seventh homer. "I've had shots at two of them and almost lost both games."

Bad Pitch

Sparma dropped a 2-1 decision to New York April 28 after six innings of no-hit baseball.

"I threw one bad pitch, when I had the three and one count on McMullen," said Sparma. "A fast ball down the middle."

"Howard? He's so big he could hit 70 homers."

Howard, the 6-foot-7, 270-pound slugger slammed his 15th homer of the season to put the Nats ahead 3-2 in the ninth. It was his eighth homer in five games, snapping a major league record of seven jointly held by Jim Bottomley of the St. Louis Cardinals, Babe Ruth of the New York Yankees and Vic Wertz of the Tigers.

"I wasn't aware of the record," said Howard. "You just try the best you can. I have no aspirations of becoming something I'm not. This is my ninth year in the majors and I know pretty well what I can do. I don't think I'm the kind of player who breaks records. I don't have that kind of ability."

All Player Does Is Score On Cold, Wet Golf Course

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Gary Player says he's a lousy shotmaker from wet fairways. He's cool toward cold weather. And few like to play in the rain.

So the personable little South African stripped two strokes from Colonial's harsh par 70 Friday and took a one-shot lead into today's third round of the Colonial National Invitation golf tournament.

That 68 was off wet fairways on a chilly, misty day.

"I really am surprised to be in the lead," Player said after his 68 gave him a 36-hole total of 138 a one-shot lead over Billy Casper.

"One of my weaknesses is an inability to play flying shots when the fairways are wet and the ball jumps. I don't care how talented a man is, it was impossible to keep from sailing the ball today."

"I've been hitting two clubs less than normal because of the dampness."

Casper, the first-round co-leader with Marty Fleckman, stumbled to three over par through 13 holes, then picked up a couple of birdies for a respectable 71.

Player was the only golfer to beat par and only three others—Johnny Pott, George Knudson and Bob Goalby—could equal it.

"This is just a good, tough course," said Casper, the 1964 Colonial champ.

One shot behind Casper was Ken Still, who also had a 71 Friday after taking a bogey on the final hole. Pott was alone at 141, a stroke ahead of a quartet that included Tommy Bolt, Lee Trevino, Earl Stewart Jr. and Dave Stockton, the defending champion.

Stockton was one of the few to flirt with par, going one under at the turn, but he encountered bogeys at the 17th and 18th for a 72.

"That's not too far back," he smiled, noting that his 65-66 in the first two rounds last year brought the crusty Colonial course to its knees.

Gene Littler, Tommy Aaron and Lionel Hebert were in at 143, one stroke ahead of Harold Henning, Fleckman, Bob Charles, Julius Boros and Gardner Dickinson Jr.

Fleckman faltered to a 76 after sharing the lead with Casper. Boros, despite a bogey at No. 5, shot a 33 on the front nine Friday and went three under with a birdie at No. 11. But he took bogeys at four of the last five holes for a 71.

Player is shooting for his first PGA triumph since he took the U.S. Open in 1965.
